This is one of three (1852, 1860, 1868) identical structures built in 1943 on the south side of A Street. Each is 2000 square feet, cost $3,200.00 and is built from plan 700-5201, of a type "Theatre of Operations," "Temporary," "OBAT."

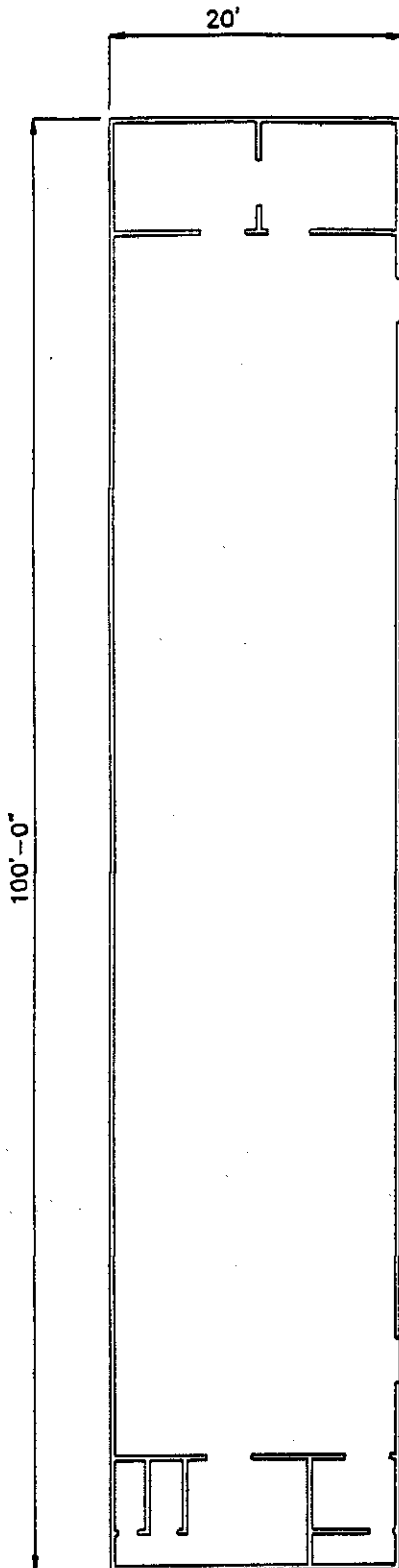

The physical description and floor plan of building 1852 applies to building 1868 as well. This building seems to be the most intact of the three. It retains most of its tarpaper and batten siding, although much of the southern roofing paper has blown off. The building yard is enclosed with a chain link fence.
